

CTC'S NATIONWIDE CALENDAR
OF CYCLING EVENTS IS GOING
DIGITAL

What's On

Events listings will now appear online on the CTC website and not in Cycle magazine. Visit ctc.org.uk and click the Events tab, which is in the Ride menu, and you will find a searchable database of hundreds of rides of all kinds. Look for rides by type, area or distance – or narrow down your search in other ways.

Having the events online enables us to include more events in more detail, and not just for the two months coming up. It also frees up some space in Cycle magazine for features, which magazines can do better than websites. We'll be able to make your favourite article a page or two longer or add an article on a different topic, the better to serve CTC's diverse audience.

Cycle events are a core part of CTC, of course, and Cycle magazine will continue to report on them; it's only the listings that are migrating. Dates for your Diary will be retained and moved to sit alongside Events News.

We want to know about the cycle rides that you've been on too. If you've attended a cycle event – anything from an audax ride to an entry-level ride for women – and you'd like to tell other CTC members about it, take a photo or two and get writing! We're always looking for interesting Travellers' Tales articles. These needn't be about holidays; an account of a day's ride finding BCQ clues or a 200km audax you did could be just as interesting. Contact the editor (details on page 80) for a guide on what to supply.
