1 Decathlon Riverside Touring 920 £1,399.99

It's a lot of gravel bike for the money: an aluminium frame and carbon fork with mounts for everything; XT hub dynamo and USB top cap; hydraulic discs; 29x2.25 tubeless tyres; 1x11 Sram Rival.

2 Vizirider Jacket £75

Some jackets augment hi-vis colours and reflectivity with a red rear LED. Want to light yourself up like a Christmas tree? The showerproof Vizirider has a dozen – six front, six rear.

3 Carradice Top Tube Panniers £80

I think I'd hit my knees on these UK-made 3.5-litre (per pair) cotton duck panniers but they were evidently popular with the Rough Stuff Fellowship in the 1950s.

4 Bythlon Pedal System £129

Bythlon's three-bolt road cleats connect to dedicated pedals with 'form fitting technology'. You can lift your feet off without twisting to disengage as they're only held in place horizontally.

5 BikerTop €149

Looks like a bar bag, folds out like an umbrella into a rain and windshield that curves up over your head. There's a pocket for cargo too. Best stay away from overtaking HGVs, however.

6 Tailfin Cargo Cage £39+

A cargo cage that fits to triple bosses or bottle mounts, Tailfin's design is only 17mm deep with its base removed, meaning minimal clutter.

7 Lifesaver Liberty £124.99

The reason this 400ml bottle is £125 is that it's a water purifier that incorporates an in-line pump, enabling you to top up your water in the wild. The filter does 2,000 litres.
